PROBLEMS WITH THIRD EDITION OF OUR TEXT

In the recently mailed Fellowship Report there was an indication in the reports from George H., WSC Chairperson and WSO Board President, Chuck G., of a problem concerning three stories that are to be added to the Text. There has been considerable discussion among the Trustees, WSO and other Trusted Servants of the Conference on this matter. The situation is not unlike the difficulty encountered two years ago when the production of the First Edition resulted in a change of language from that which had been reviewed and approved by the Conference and the Fellowship. That first matter, concerning the 4th and 9th Tradition was only resolved in the past several weeks and reported in the Fellowship Report.

Considering the magnitude of the controversy that developed that first time, there is great reluctance to take action that may result in a new conflict within the Fellowship. As the Manager of the World Service Office and the employee directly responsible for contact with the typesetting company and the printer, I feel caught in the middle of a "no win" situation. The WSO Board is equally caught in this conflict with little room for action.

- We are faced with the responsibility of instructing the typesetting company to set the language one way or another. These are the choices:
1. Print the stories exactly as they were reviewed by the Fellowship.
 2. Print the stories as they were reviewed by the Fellowship making corrections in use and placement of punctuation only.
 3. Omit the stories so they can be reviewed again by the Fellowship and the Conference and perhaps included in a later Edition.
 4. Print the stories as corrected for language and punctuation even though they would not be identical to the version previously reviewed by the Fellowship and approved by the Conference.
 5. Delay instructing the typesetting company and the printing of the Third Edition until the Fellowship decides the matter. There are two ways this can be done.
 - A. Conduct a special mailing report as was recently done for the 4th and 9th Tradition language to obtain Fellowship Conscience.
 - B. Place the matter on the agenda of the 1985 meeting of the World Service Conference.

If option 5.B. is selected, the Third Edition would not be printed until August 1986. If option 5.A. is selected printing of the Third Edition might be accomplished before the end of this year, but no guarantee.

The WSO Board has felt that my advice to them in this matter was correct for the actions of the WSO: Follow option 5.A. if all of the Trusted Servants involved in the matter agree to this course of action. But if unanimous consent cannot be reached, then option 2 should be followed.

If all of the directly responsible Trusted Servants agree that one option should be followed, and act together in unity, then the Fellowship should be willing to move forward in the matter without great strif. The Trusted Servants could adopt any of the options. The list of Trusted servants that should concur with such a course are: all of the Trustees, all of the WSC Officers, the Chairperson of the WSC Literature Committee and all of the WSO Directors. During the last weeks of discussion, it has been determined that unanimous consent for action to follow any of the options cannot be reached.

This still leaves the WSO in the position of not having direct instructions. Because unanimity cannot be obtained, the WSO is back in the hotseat. In the discussions within the WSO Board on this and previous matters related to similar circumstances, there has grown an understanding of the role of the WSO in these situations. The WSO, acting as the publishing arm of the Fellowship, conducts such duties as any secretary should. A secretary should make corrections in spelling and punctuation, but any time a word is considered for changing, in the viewpoint of a secretary, it is the duty of the secretary to consult with the "boss" and obtain consent.

The WSO Board believes this analogy to be a correct portrayal of the circumstance at this time. Because the "boss" cannot provide consent for changing the words immediately, the WSO does not believe we have the authority to change the words. But the WSO does believe the corrections in spelling and punctuation can and should be made. It is therefore, currently the plan to move forward with final typesetting and printing of the Third Edition of the Text accordingly.

* * * * * CONVENTION NEWS * * * * *

The World Convention in Chicago will be over by the time this is received and read, but the Convention Committee reports that all the evidence points to a tremendously successful Convention.

There are two other conventions soon to take place that will be of interest to the Fellowship. The Fellowships in London, England and in Sydney, Australia are each holding their first conventions. The convention in London is scheduled for September 14, 15, and 16, 1984 with a theme of "Together We Can". It would be terrific if members from the United States or Canada could attend. For information, call 01-871-0505. Although mailing time is short, the address is P.O. Box 246, London S.W. 10.

In Sydney, under the title of "Living Proof" the Fellowship will be meeting at the Glebe Town Hall, on St. Johns Road. This convention should have participants from the United States, New Zealand and all over Australia. This convention will be held September 28 thru October 1. Information can be obtained from the Committee at P.O. Box 440 Leidhardt, 2040, Australia.

* * * * WSC-LITERATURE SUBCOMMITTEE * * * *

In the last Newsline reference was made about the three pamphlets withdrawn from distribution (p.2, paragraph 5). One of the three mentioned, was For Those We Love and Others (I.P. #3). This statement was erroneous. The pamphlet in question is: Another Look (I.P. #5). A revised Approval Form of this pamphlet was distributed at WSC-84, and also included in the August '84 fellowship report. This is the pamphlet that will be withdrawn once the current stock is depleted. There has been no Conference action taken on For Those We Love and Others. The WSC-Literature Subcommittee is working on revising the other two pamphlets mentioned (An Approach to the Fourth Step Guide and The Use of Medication in Recovery.) We welcome input on these, which should be sent to the WSC-LC Chair, c/o WSO, Inc.

The WSC-Literature Subcommittee is working on a pamphlet addressing addicts in the armed services. We would like input from people with prior military service experience or active military personnel who are willing to share their experience, strength and hope. Personal experiences must be accompanied by a signed release. A copy of the release form is included with this NEWSLINE. If you are interested, please send your written input (with release) to:

WSC-Literature Subcommittee
c/o W.S.O., Inc.
16155 Wyandotte St.
Van Nuys, CA 91406

Any clean, recovering member of Narcotics Anonymous who is interested in becoming active in the WSC-Literature Subcommittee is encouraged to do so. Appointments are made only once a year at the World Service Conference. However, you may participate between now and then by sending input on work detailed above, on the three Review Form items, or by contacting your local area or regional literature committee.

* * * * * PUBLIC INFORMATION COMMITTEE * * * * *

Enclosed you will find a one page census form developed by the Public Information Committee. Accompanying the form is an instruction page that provides details of how the census is to be conducted. The Census was initiated in order to obtain information about the composition of the membership of the Fellowship. This information can be utilized in better understanding the Fellowship and can then be used in the accomplishment of responsibilities assigned to the Public Information Committee.

* * * * * FROM THE TRUSTEES * * * * *

Most of us would acknowledge that Tradition violations occur with regularity throughout our Fellowship. Sometimes they result from a lack of understanding of Traditions on the part of the individual or individuals involved. At other times, they are a result of the misguided philosophy of the "end justifies the means". Sometimes they occur out of a misinterpretation of the principles of autonomy and group conscience. Occasionally self will is the issue, expressed as "we are going to do it my way or no way".

Communications and open discussion of the issues are two important ways to avoid Tradition violations. But remembering that N.A. is a spiritual Fellowship based on principals can resolve many difficulties before they become Tradition violations.

The Trustees receive letters almost every day on one Tradition question or another. In this article you will find examples of the most frequently addressed issues along with some advice on how such matters should be handled.

One letter we received concerned a meeting held in a recovery house and primarily attended by N.A. members who were once residents of that recovery house, as well as individuals currently residing in the House. The former residents were grateful for having been introduced to N.A. by that recovery house and for the caring and sharing they experienced while there. The recovery house regularly holds fund raising functions for their facility and these are announced at the N.A. meetings as a matter of course. In-house residents, as well as new members coming to the meeting, have difficulty distinguishing between what are N.A. announcements and what are the recovery house announcements. When someone informed the meeting that when these announcements are made at a meeting it constituted a violation of Tradition Six, the response was immediate anger that someone would attempt to interfere with their autonomy. Many felt someone was nitpicking and should work their own program instead of judging and finding fault with them.

In another area several members began attending prayer and meditation groups held at a local church. These members gained much from this and began to tell other N.A. members about it. Soon many N.A. members in the area were involved in the prayer and meditation groups. Some members then began distributing flyers at N.A. meetings about the prayer and meditation meetings and workshops. New members sometimes wondered if N.A. itself was a prayer and meditation group. When informed this was a violation of the Traditions, the response was they were merely practicing the 11th Step and encouraging others to do so. The response was that the Fellowship in their area wanted these flyers and they would continue to provide them.

In another letter the Trustees learned of celebrations of a birthday were announced in N.A. meetings even though the person celebrating his birthday was going to do so at a meeting of another 12 Step Fellowship. When informed that this constituted a violation of Tradition Six, the members in question stated that it was his birthday and he could celebrate wherever he wanted to.

In another situation, a large speaker meeting in a rapidly growing area almost always had a speaker from another 12 Step Fellowship. The secretary indicated this was imperative as the area contains mostly newcomers who need to learn how to work the Steps and practice the principles of the program. They, therefore, felt it imperative to choose those individuals who have time and experience as speakers. The fact that these individuals are not N.A. members was not important they said, other 12 Step Fellowships have the same steps and traditions and the steps and traditions are what is important. They felt that maybe later, when more N.A. members have more time, they can start using them as speakers, but not right now.

These are very common Tradition Violations. Many of us, when we first came to Narcotics Anonymous, wanted a "do it my way program". We agreed with some of the steps and thought they were useful, others we thought were the pits. Many of us decided that we would apply and use some of the program and disregard the parts we felt were really hard or conflicted with our "comfortable" recovery. Through experiences of many years, sometimes through painful relapses, it has been found that having a "my way program" did not work. As individuals we had to learn to follow direction about using the steps. The same is true of the Traditions.

The Traditions exist in order to keep the Fellowship true to the purpose of recovery and so that the philosophy of N.A. will not change. Adherence to them insures the growth and continuation of our Fellowship. We must apply them to the problems our Fellowship encounters as they are written, rather than how we think they ought to read. If we do, we are able to assist others to recover in N.A., and our Fellowship grows in an atmosphere of love and acceptance. When the Traditions are not followed, as they are written, our experience has been disunity, chaos, and controversy. In that atmosphere, recovery of newcomers and older members is imperiled.

The handling of a tradition violation is often a very sensitive matter and requires a great deal of tact and diplomacy; skills a recovering addict is often short of. Most of us have been wrong so often in our lives that it feels good to be right for a change. The tendency is to rush into the discussion, hurl an accusation or two, point a finger, say "you're violating our Traditions" and demand change. This type of attitude is self defeating. We need to be protective of our Traditions but we need to balance that with tact and diplomacy. Actually the growth and development of tact and diplomacy are manifestations of having worked the steps.

A key point we need to keep in mind as we resolve a violation of Tradition is that no one in recovery sets out to intentionally harm the Fellowship. We want to see our Fellowship grow. We do not consciously choose disunity in our recovery any more than we consciously chose to live miserably during our active addiction. Once we realize this, we can approach the individual or individuals involved from a humanitarian perspective in a spirit of helpfulness and cooperation. We should not make the situation a confrontation from the, "I'm right and you're wrong" point of view. Many of us have learned that being right does not always equate with being happy or solving a problem.

The first step would be to approach the individual on a one to one basis. Take time to think of alternative solutions that are within the Traditions before approaching the individual. For example, in the case of the secretary who is using speakers from other 12 Step fellowships; explain how this violates Tradition Six. Acknowledge that it is difficult to find N.A. speakers who have time and recovery who live nearby. A solution may be to find N.A. members with long clean time who live out of the area but are willing to travel to share at that meeting.

In the case of the recovery house, suggest the house place a bulletin board outside the meeting room and post announcements of its fund raising activities there.

Suggest to the members of the prayer and meditation group that they use word of mouth on a one to one basis to share with other members about the prayer and meditation group. Or use a bulletin board outside the meeting room.

Suggest and encourage the N.A. member celebrating his birthday in another 12 step Fellowship to celebrate it in N.A., too. Tell him how much you would like that, and how helpful it is for newcomers to see someone commemorate recovery birthdays in N.A. It gives the newcomer to our program hope and inspiration. If he wants to celebrate his birthday in another program, also, that celebration should be discussed only in that program. N.A. and other 12 step fellowships are separate and activities or meeting events in one should not become part of the other.

One way to help with these matters and keep within our Traditions, is to provide the individuals with copies of articles written on the Traditions. These articles appear in each issue of the NEWSLINE and previously published articles are available from the World Service Office upon request. Allow the individual time to think about it and talk to other members before broaching the subject again. Always treat the individual with respect and dignity.

If there is no positive response even after the exercise of tact, diplomacy and helpful suggestions you have been able to muster up, the next step should be taken at the next business meeting of the group. Present the situation, along with the alternatives, and ask that the meeting adhere to the Traditions. At each point in the dialogue request or suggest change, don't demand. If the meeting continues to violate the Traditions, take the matter to the Area Service Committee.

A letter written to the ASC should be prepared. It should provide accurate, unbiased facts along with alternative solutions. Request the area write to the meeting asking them to adhere to the Traditions. If the problem is not solved in this way, the matter should be presented to the Regional Service Committee. If the situation goes beyond the meeting level, controversy, disunity and chaos are sure to result.

Education is most helpful in promoting an understating of the Traditions. Tradition Workshops and Learning Days sponsored by an area or region go a long way towards developing unity and understanding of our Traditions, thus preventing or cutting down on violations. A couple of examples of how Tradition Violations have been handled within one area and region are included here also. The first was initially handled ineptly and the second very appropriately.

The region is a very large one and contains a lot of members with long term clean time. Several years ago a well established area in the region, which also happened to be the most active, had a step study meeting which was using literature other than N.A. approved Literature. The meeting had been doing this for some time when others members began to protest. Personalities got involved, accusations flew, lines were drawn and people were firmly planted on one side or the other. The meeting refused to relinquish this practice and in an Area business meeting the Area Service Committee voted to let the meeting continue this practice. At that point the region demanded the meeting comply with Traditions and refused to recognize the area ASR at meetings of the region. The region also passed a motion to take the meeting out of the regional directory at the next printing. The area again debated the issue and decided to withdraw from the region and began to make plans to print their own directories. The region and area committees were so engrossed in the controversy that little thought seemed to be centered on the still suffering addict.

It was decided by the region to take the matter to the Board of Trustees. The Board of Trustees made the determination that only N.A. approved literature could be read in meetings. However, if members of that meeting on a "word of mouth basis" wanted to meet informally before the meeting to read whatever they wanted to, that would certainly not constitute a violation of the Traditions. Some members began to meet a half hour before the meeting to read other literature, and at the official meeting only N.A. approved literature was read. After a time the practice of reading the other material before meetings ceased voluntarily.

Another meeting in a well established area was the largest meeting in the region, drawing several hundred people each week. It was a one half speaker and one half participation meeting and had the reputation of having very good N.A. speakers. Having all these people at one place at one time, it seemed to some entrepreneur's was a golden opportunity. Some individuals began to sell things to members after the meeting. Soon they were making announcements towards the end of the meeting and setting up tables with gold jewelry , Hawaiian print shirts and a whole lot of other things for sale. Some members watched in horror as their favorite meeting turned into a flea market. An approach to the individuals involved brought no response. At the next business meeting the issue was brought up and the group conscience chose adherence to the Traditions. Group conscience was that the N.A. meeting rented the hall for a meeting and not to provide individuals with a place to peddle their goods. If members wanted to sell things they could do so outside the meeting hall but no announcements would be made and no tables provided.

If we can just keep in mind that traditions are not a matter of having it your way or having it my way; it's having our way through adherence to our 12 Traditions, our program works.

The third update for the World Directory will be printed and mailed during the month of September. Our records indicate the number of new meetings will be approximately the same as in the last update. This increase of approximately 250 meetings reflects continued Fellowship growth in all areas of the country. In the next update of the Directory and for future printings, a change in the policy of when meetings are listed will be placed into effect. We have discovered that a number of meetings indicated in the first and second updates are no longer meeting or are no longer meeting at the same time or location. The problem is obvious in that it often takes six months or more before a new meeting becomes strong enough to have a permanent location. Therefore, we are adopting a policy that new meetings will not be included in the update until the meeting has existed for six months. It will be important, therefore, to register all new meetings as soon as a permanent location, date and time are established. This policy will allow us to avoid the confusion of showing meetings in the Directory that no longer exists.

On a related subject pertaining to groups and their registration, it will be very important that every group maintain a current mail address with the World Service Office. The change announced in the recent Fellowship report about the expansion of the NEWSLINE and discontinuance of periodic Fellowship Reports will put greater emphasis on the maintenance of correct mailing addresses in our group files; it must become a specific responsibility of every group to maintain a current address even if officers change frequently. The person responsible, for the receipt of written communications within each group should be the name and address listed with the W.S.O.

All groups registered after November 19, 1983, were assigned a 6 letter code identification. Please, always use this code when making changes. It is this code that is used in our records to identify a specific group. Groups registering or re-registering with us who have not been assigned this code system will be assigned a new code sequence.

A revised version of the Temporary Working Guide to the Service Structure is now available. The revised version contains changes resulting from actions taken by the World Service Conference that met in April of this year. You may use the order form attached with this NEWSLINE for ordering the Temporary Working Guide to the Service Structure or other materials.

The translation of the White Book and five pamphlets into French and German has been completed and the materials have been sent to members of the Fellowship in Germany and France for proofreading. Other languages will be completed soon.

As a closing notation, we would like to again invite all readers of the NEWSLINE to subscribe to the fellowships N.A. Way Magazine. It continues to improve in content and quality. The Magazine has proven to be a valuable asset in the recovery of many newcomers. It is a short meeting they can carry with them and, each day, gain strength and hope in a few minutes of reading.
