My Years With Narcotics Anonymous
By Bob Stone

A 480 Page History of N.A. written by the former Executive Director of The World Service Office —Bob Stone.

Why a history of NA written by a non-addict, published separately from NA's own publishing arm? Bob Stone knew that he was in a unique position, being the non-addict and non-member of NA who had perhaps as deep a personal experience and involvement with NA world services as any non-addict is ever likely to have. He shares his own experiences and reflections about NA's development for the nine year period he served as the World Service Office's Executive Director. He also performed an exhaustive research project on the early history of NA —both the current NA fellowship which began in California in 1953 and the other similar movements which had their roots in Lexington, Kentucky and New York City as early as the 1940's.

Bob attempts to be fair and objective, giving credit where credit is due, but also being open and forthcoming about the many controversies and personality struggles that were part of the fabric of NA's history. He watched and participated in NA's developmental journey keenly aware that as time went on, the founding members of NA were getting more scarce. The wealth of memories and experiences of early NA were slowly slipping away, and with them would go the ability to tell this story. With that in mind, he made it his business to talk to these people and to make notes of these conversations. This book is Bob's attempt to pass along those many years of conversations and experiences. He died in 1996 before the book made it to print.
